

Theology and Climate Change

A conversation with

David Karoly is a Professor of Atmospheric Science in the School of Earth Sciences and the ARC Centre of Excellence for Climate System Science at the University of Melbourne.

Ian Barnes is a noted Carlton Theologian and Environmental Activist.

What is the scientific story around climate change?

What are the obstacles to making the changes we need to protect against harmful climate change? And, more specifically, what are the theological issues at play when we talk about the environment?

Is this primarily a technical issue, to be fixed by different and better technology?
Or is it primarily a spiritual challenge to our world?
