Casual Saturday Evening Dinners: On the Saturday evening following the conclusion of the day's program, you are invited to join a group who will meet at local eateries over dinner to share ideas on various topics of interest. Information will be available at registration.

NING: Following your enrolment in the Intensive you will be invited by email to join Ning, a private online forum. Here you can join with other registrants to discuss the topics that will be raised during the Intensive. This is a great opportunity to flesh out your ideas and come up with good discussion points prior to the conference.
